

SF Flamenco Dance Company

There are different types of Flamenco dances from different regions of Spain. These are 4 popular styles that will be performed this evening!

Sevillanas

A festive partner dance from Sevilla, the dancers play castanets!

Sevillanas are danced from dusk 'til dawn during Sevilla's annual spring festival the "Feria de Abril".

Fandangos de Huelva

Fandangos are a popular flamenco dance style from the Andalusian province of Huelva.

The music, in a six count rhythm, has a chorus followed by individual verses danced by the dancers. The dancers often finish the fandangos in a flourish of footwork.

Alegrías de Cádiz

The port city of Cádiz is home to the beautiful alegrías style of flamenco.

Alegrías (happiness) is danced as a solo. From the fast paced intro to the slow, sensual 'silencio' to the layers of fast footwork at the end of the dance, the alegrías style is passionate and engaging.

Bulerías de Jerez

The city of Jerez, known for its sherry and its flamenco fiestas, is alive with the hypnotic rhythm of bulerías. Often called dancing 'por fiesta' bulerías are intensely rhythmic and playful. Usually performed at the end of a set, each dancer takes a turn dancing one or two short verses. Often during bulerías the dancers invite people on stage to dance 'por fiesta' with them.

Sunday Evening Flamenco Food Pairings!

Chef has created food specials that represent the different regions of Spain to pair with the Flamenco dance from that region!

From Sevilla:

Fried Boquerones 10
Pickled white anchovies
Fennel, orange, capers

From Huelva:

Jamón Serrano and Roasted Pear 10
Cured Spanish ham and roasted pear
Sherry vinegar reduction

From Cádiz:

Squid Ink Paella 12
(Tapa size portion)
Stone crab, squid, oyster
Citrus zest, celery leaf

From Jerez:

Crema Catalana 8
Spanish custard dessert
with Jerez sherry

Olé!!